4. MUTUAL ARBITRATION PROGRAM NOTICE

In a perfect world, every employment relationship would be smooth and harmonious. There are, unfortunately, times when employees and employers disagree. These disagreements may pertain to a variety of issues involving the employment relationship. BY REMAINING AN EMPLOYEE IN THE EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP AFTER RECEIPT OF THIS NOTICE, YOU (“Employee”) AGREE THAT YOU AND S.J. DISTRIBUTORS, INC. (“S.J.”) ARE BOUND BY THE FOLLOWING DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROCEDURE AS TO ANY AND ALL DISPUTES BETWEEN YOU AND S.J., IRRESPECTIVE OF THE DATE(S) WHEN THE DISPUTE(S) AROSE.

Both S.J. and Employee mutually agree to first attempt in good faith to informally resolve any disputes they have with one another. The parties may jointly select a mediator from the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”) or similar organization who is trained and experienced in employment disputes.

If informal dispute resolution is not successful, both S.J. and Employee mutually agree to submit their dispute to final and binding arbitration solely on an individual claim basis. This Mutual Arbitration Program applies to any and all controversies or claims arising out of or relating to Employee’s employment with S.J. and/or the termination of said employment, irrespective of the date such controversies or claims arose, as well as any and all controversies or claims arising out of or relating to this Mutual Arbitration Program and the enforceability or applicability of this Mutual Arbitration Program.

The arbitration shall be before a single arbitrator to be jointly selected by the parties from a panel provided by AAA or such other organization to which Employee and S.J. may mutually agree. S.J. shall pay the arbitrator’s fees unless Employee elects to split such fees with S.J. If the claim is brought by Employee, Employee shall pay only any initial processing fee that may be charged by AAA or other organization, except S.J. shall pay any portion of such fee that exceeds the initial appearance fee then charged by the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Santa Clara. Unless the parties agree otherwise, or unless controlling legal authority requires otherwise, the arbitration shall be governed by the AAA’s Employment Arbitration Rules and Mediation Procedures, which are available on the Internet at <https://www.adr.org/sites/default/files/Employment%20Rules.pdf> and by request from S.J.

This Mutual Arbitration Program includes a waiver of all rights S.J. and Employee have to a jury trial and civil court action relating to any dispute covered by this Mutual Arbitration Program, to the extent permitted by law. Furthermore, unless controlling legal authority requires otherwise, there shall be no right or authority for any dispute subject to this Mutual Arbitration Program to be heard or arbitrated on a class action, collective action, representative action or private attorney general basis, or on any other basis involving disputes brought in a purported representative capacity (whether on behalf of the general public, any other current, prospective or former employees, or any other persons or entities). Accordingly, only an arbitrator, and not a judge or a jury, will decide the dispute, and only on an individual-claim basis. The arbitrator shall have no jurisdiction to decide any claims on a class action, collective action, representative action or private attorney general basis, or on any other basis involving disputes brought in a purported representative capacity. To the extent that controlling legal authority holds the foregoing waiver is unenforceable as applied to a claim or cause of action under the California Private Attorneys General Act of 2004 (California Labor Code section 2699 et seq.) or any similar law of any other state, then any such claim or cause of action shall be litigated in court, but such litigation shall not commence until after arbitration of any and all individual claims covered by this Mutual Arbitration Program is concluded.

The arbitrator shall have the authority to award any type of relief that otherwise could be awarded under applicable law by a judge or a jury in connection with any individual claim either party may have. The arbitrator’s decision shall be final and binding. Either Employee or S.J. may seek to have a court of competent jurisdiction enforce an arbitration award. Employee and S.J. also retain any and all rights under controlling law to apply to a court for injunctive relief or other provisional relief where necessary to avoid irreparable harm.

THE TERMS OF THIS MUTUAL ARBITRATION PROGRAM INCLUDE A WAIVER BY S.J. AND EMPLOYEE OF THE RIGHT TO A JURY TRIAL, AND OF THE RIGHT TO BRING A CLASS ACTION, COLLECTIVE ACTION OR REPRESENTATIVE ACTION, OR ON A PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL BASIS, EXCEPT TO THE EXTENT CONTROLLING LEGAL AUTHORITY REQUIRES OTHERWISE. UNDER THE TERMS OF THIS MUTUAL ARBITRATION PROGRAM, CLAIMS THAT OTHERWISE WOULD BE DECIDED BY A JUDGE OR A JURY WILL BE DECIDED BY AN ARBITRATOR WITHOUT A JURY, AND SOLELY ON AN INDIVIDUAL CLAIM BASIS.

S.J. AND EMPLOYEE HEREBY AFFIRM THAT THEY CLEARLY AND UNMISTAKABLY INTEND AND AGREE TO DELEGATE ANY AND ALL ISSUES OF ENFORCEABILITY OF THIS

ARBITRATION PROGRAM TO THE ARBITRATOR, EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED HEREIN.

S.J. AND EMPLOYEE EACH UNDERSTAND THE EFFECT OF THE TERMS HEREIN AND ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THEY EACH HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT AN ATTORNEY OF THEIR OWN CHOOSING ABOUT THE TERMS HEREIN.

6. TIME & BREAK ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Accuracy of Time

It is S.J. Distributor Inc.'s (the "Company") policy to ensure that all employees are properly paid for all of their work. Therefore, it is each employee's responsibility to examine their paycheck and paycheck stub to ensure that each employee is being properly paid for all work time and that the paycheck and pay stub are accurate. If an employee believes that he/she is not being properly paid for all of his/her work, he/she must immediately inform Human Resources.

Additionally, no supervisor can permit an employee to work "off the clock." If a supervisor asks an employee to work "off the clock," it is the employee's responsibility to immediately bring this issue to Human Resources. No employees are permitted to work "off the clock" at any time. For the purposes of this policy, "off the clock" work is where an employee works for the Company but does not accurately record his/her time in the Company's approved time record.

Supervisors are only authorized to change an employee's time record to accurately reflect the employee's actual work hours. If an employee believes that a supervisor has modified his/her time record to inaccurately reflect his/her work hours, again, the employee will immediately inform Human Resources of the alleged inaccuracy, in writing.

It will be presumed that the Company is accurately compensating an employee, unless the employee timely brings a complaint pursuant to this policy.

Meal Periods and Rest Breaks

Non-Exempt employees are expected to take their full allotted time for meal and break periods and may not perform any work during these periods. Non-Exempt employees are provided time for meal periods and rest breaks and will be relieved of all duty during the course of their work day for such purposes.

Your Supervisor will determine the scheduling of your meal and rest periods.

- Meal Periods

Non-Exempt employees who work at least five (5) hours in any work day are provided a thirty (30) minute unpaid meal period, except that when a work period of no more than six (6) hours will complete the day's work, the meal period may be waived by mutual consent of the Company and the employee. The Company may, in its sole discretion, assign a longer meal period to particular job functions or particular employees, but the Company is not required by law to do so.

The Company also provides employees who work more than ten (10) hours in any work day time for a second thirty (30) minute unpaid meal period. The employee may choose to waive the second meal period when the employee's supervisor agrees, as long as the first meal period was not waived, and the total hours worked is no more than twelve (12) hours.

Supervisors may schedule meal periods to accommodate operating requirements. Where a supervisor does not specifically schedule an employee's meal period, the employee is responsible for ensuring that the meal period commences no later than the end of the employee's fifth hour of work.

Meals during meal periods should not be eaten on the clock. If, for any reason an employee feels that he/she does not have adequate time to take a thirty-minute meal period, it is the employee's responsibility to notify his/her supervisor and/or the Human Resources Department so that adequate accommodations may be provided.

Employees are required to keep accurate records of meal periods taken. If there is a time clock or electronic timekeeping system, each employee must clock out when going to meals and clock in when returning to work. If an employee does not adhere to this requirement to clock in and out, or does not timely return to work following a meal period, he/she will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. If an employee is employed in a position where he/she is physically unable to clock out and back in for his/her meal period, such as a driver, he/she will be required to notify the Company if he/she diverts from the break schedule and misses his/her meal period, takes a meal period shorter than 30 minutes or starts his meal period after the fifth hour of work. The Company will assume each employee received their meal period of at least 30 minutes and that the meal period started before the end of the fifth hour of work unless the employee notifies the Company that he/she received a short or late meal period.

- Rest Breaks

Non-Exempt employees are entitled to one ten-minute rest period for every four hours worked, or major fraction thereof. Rest periods should be taken as close to the middle of the four hours worked as reasonably possible. The schedule for rest periods is as follows:

For shifts longer than 3.5 hours, one rest period should be taken between the beginning of the second hour, but before the end of the fourth hour.

For shifts between four and ten hours, an additional rest period should be taken between the beginning of the sixth hour, but before the eighth hour.

For shifts between ten and fourteen hours, an additional rest period should be taken between the beginning of the tenth hour, but before the twelfth hour.

An employee working any shift more than six hours in length is entitled take their additional rest breaks. Rest periods may not be combined or added to a meal period, and cannot be skipped in order to arrive late, to leave early or to work extra time.

- Unauthorized Work During Meal and Rest Periods

Meal and rest periods are designed to ensure that employees have uninterrupted time to themselves throughout the day. Employees are prohibited from engaging in work related activities during this time, including, but not limited to, responding to work related emails or electronic communications, dealing with customers or vendors, or otherwise engaging in work related tasks. Employees who feel that work-related activities, including, but not limited to, demands from customers/vendors or pressure from supervisors, are inhibiting their ability to take their meal or rest periods, are instructed to discuss the issue with their supervisors and/or with the Human Resources Department.

Employees who fail to observe their assigned working hours and the time allowed for meal and rest periods may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Finally, in the consideration of some employees' inability to check time during their workday, the Company set up alarm systems to remind all employees the commencement and the conclusion time of their assigned breaks. Failure to follow the Company assigned break schedule will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination.

To facilitate the accuracy of employee time and compliance with legal requirements that employees receive meal periods and rest breaks, employees can check their respective work hours via the following methods:

1. Time Clock Machine: Most recent days of time punch records;
2. Time & Attendance Software: Current and previous time punch records;
3. Pay Stub: Total hours worked during the pay cycle;

Employees must accurately record the starting and ending time of their lunch breaks and confirm the related attendance information in the Company's internal system. If an employee fails to notify his/her supervisor, a manager or human resources by the end of the payroll period (bi-weekly), it will be presumed that the employee's time is accurate and that he/she received all of his/her meal periods and rest breaks except those meal periods for which the employee did not clock out or the time clock reflects a short or late meal period. By signing on the acknowledgement of S.J. DISTRIBUTOR INC ENTRY FORM and initial below, I hereby acknowledge that I have read, understand and agree to the above policy. I understand that if I have any questions, concerns or objections to the worked hours, it is my responsibility to take the initiative to raise it to my manager.

BY SIGNING ON THE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF S.J. DISTRIBUTOR INC ENTRY FORM, I HAVE READ AND UNDERSTAND TIME & BREAK ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.
